Curso Libre/Extensión/Sillas Vacías

The purpose of the English academic space is for students to get familiar with linguistic and intercultural elements that allow them to build communicative solid foundations in their English language learning process. Likewise, they should be able to start dominating a set of grammar rules in simple present tense through input from talks, videos, classes and cultural interactions in order to get to know language expressions. According to the Common European Framework of Reference, these elements will help the students to:

1. Use everyday frequent expressions and simple phrases in order to satisfy immediate needs.
2. Introduce themselves and others, ask and give personal basic information about their homes, belongings and people they know.
3. Interact in a basic and simple way when their interlocutor talks in a slow and clear fashion and ready to cooperate.
4. Work in teams in order to develop tasks that allow them to recognize the value of cooperation and learn to deal with their own opinion as well as others'.
